SAINTS HALL OF FAME MUSEUM

The Saints Hall of Fame exists by and for the fans of the New Orleans Saints to celebrate the rich history of the franchise. In the newly renovated museum, guests are invited to take a walk back in time and explore the beginnings of the Saints franchise, sit in the bleachers from Tulane Stadium while watching video highlights from the 1967 and 1968 New Orleans Saints, peruse a timeline of Saints artifacts and memorabilia, walk through the golden Super Bowl room that celebrates the decorated 2009 team, view the "All-Time Team" and the portraits and busts of all inductees, and recall many of the memories that have made the Saints a staple of New Orleans.

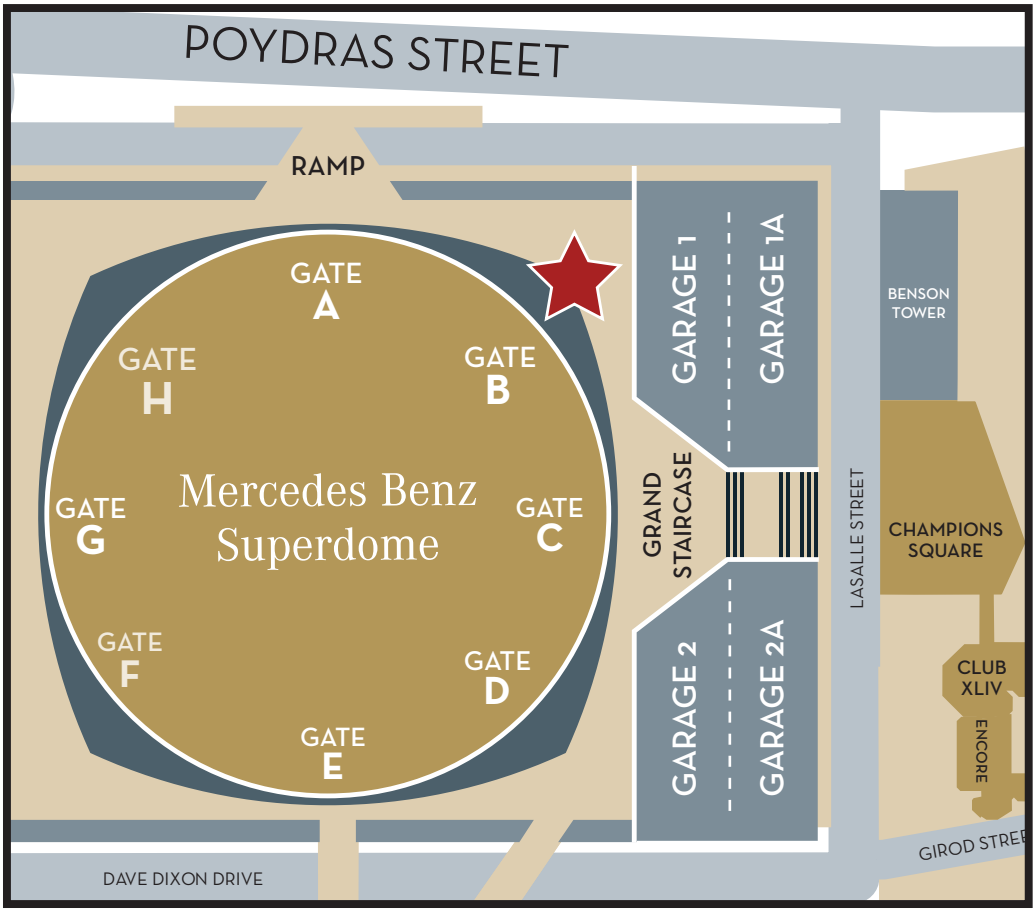
SAINTS HALL OF FAME



ABOUT THE SAINTS HALL OF FAME

The Saints Hall of Fame is a non-profit 501(c)(3) entity, operated and run by a board of directors in partnership with the New Orleans Saints Organization. Founded in 1987, the Saints Hall of Fame Museum opened its doors on July 16, 1988 in the Rivertown district of Kenner. The museum relocated to the iconic Mercedes-Benz Superdome in conjunction with the Saints vs. Carolina game on October 7, 2007. The Saints Hall of Fame inducts one or two members into its Hall of Fame annually, selected by a Media Selection Committee. Selections are based on accomplishments. Those eligible for induction include former players, coaches and primary front office personnel.
